THINGS TO DO BEFORE YOUR CHILD COMES TO CAMP OLIVER

Make sure they have spent a few nights away from home before their time at camp, to help prevent homesickness.

Remind your child that she/he will be sleeping in a cabin with other children their own age, especially if they come with an older sibling.

Our practice is to not allow campers to phone home during the week. Experience has shown that these calls are extremely disruptive, and there would not be enough phone lines to handle the volume. One of the valued outcomes of camp is learning independence. Phoning home would detract from that important goal. In rare circumstances due to behavior or severe homesickness, our staff will initiate calls with your son or daughter. Please do not promise your camper that he/she can call home.

Parents needing information about their camper can call the office (619) 445-5945

Thank you for your help and cooperation. We look forward to seeing you and your family this summer!
